GENERAL APATHY MARKS CAMPAIGN.*Vote in Connellsville Light and Interest at Low Ebb Today.*FOURTH WARD IN THE LEAD*At Noon 110 Votes Had Been Polled. Less Than 600 Cast in the Borough Up to That Time—Little Friction Develops in Two Wards.*General Apathy seems to have secured an eleventh-hour strangle hold on the campaign in Connellsville for the election today is one of the quietest in years. Aside from some little friction in the First and Sixth Wards, there hasn't been so much enthusiasm demonstrated as is evidenced just now in the Cook-Perry controversy.*For a judicial campaign, the vote is remarkably light and unless overlooked for enthusiasm and interest develops this afternoon and evening there is little chance of even the normal vote being polled.*Up until noon today less than 600 votes had been cast in the borough. The Fourth Ward, which was badly split by the redistricting of the town, led at that time with 110 votes, while the Sixth Ward, West Side, was a close second with 109. The Third Ward had 63, the First 59, the Fifth 26, the Second 70 and the Seventh 50.*There have been but few challenges all morning and practically no enmity developed between the workers. The little unpleasantness that occurred soon disappeared. Indeed, even the workers seem to have cultivated the acquaintance of the hook worm, judging from appearance.*The Second, Fifth and Seventh wards seemed to be running a race this morning to see which could generate the least interest. There was scarcely anyone about the Seventh ward polling place. Out on the South Side the election officers and workers were swapping hunting stories most of the morning, with the Judge of Election handing out a ballot now and then. The Second and Seventh wards polling places might have been hard for a stranger to locate but for the red notices tacked outside the doors. All the workers were inside the rooms and did not seem to be very busy at that.*Alfred E. Jones, candidate for County Judge, sprung a surprise on the veteran campaigners when he departed from the usual precedent and appeared from his home ward. He was in Connellsville this morning and visited all the polling places.*In the Sixth Ward, on the West Side, John Dussey and Wm. John came together, but there were no fatalities. After the argument had progressed a few minutes Lawrence McGehee, a West Side negro, came into the polling place and caroled Wash out into the street.*In the First Ward, Judge of Election Claude Hays, called on Constable J. W. Mitchell to remove James S. Darr from the polling place because he had no watcher's certificate. Darr had found fault with the manner in which the Republican watchers were looking after their duty.*ATE A HEARTY MEAL THEN DROPPED DEAD*Peter Shaeffer of Pleasant Valley Expired Suddenly at Daughter's Home Yesterday.*After eating a hearty meal, Peter Shaeffer, aged 87 years, of Pleasant Valley arose from the table yesterday at noon and dropped dead. Mr. and Mrs. Shaeffer have made their home with their daughter, Mrs. Anna Liley, at Pleasant Valley for some time. About four years ago deceased suffered a stroke of paralysis and it is thought that his sudden death was due to another stroke. He awoke at his usual hour yesterday morning and seemed to be enjoying good health.*Mr. Shaeffer was well known in Fayette county. His widow, Susan Shaeffer, and the following children survive: Mrs. Cora Layman or Phillips works; Mrs. Anna Liley of Pleasant Valley; John of Springfield township. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the Clayton school house. Rev. John Stillwagon will officiate.*A Lively Night.
UNIONTOWN, Nov. 2.—There were 22 arrests and that number of prisoners in police court this morning. Too much hallooing and derision and election was responsible for the big hand.*Twelve were sent up for 24 hours and the others paid their way out.*Daily

The father and two sons went to work in the mines about 5 o'clock. Mrs. Marlow and son Lyte, aged eight, were in the kitchen after the men had eaten their breakfast. A kitchen lamp was overturned and exploded. The flames spread in a twinkling to the upper story of the little frame house. Mrs. Marlow sent her son from the house and rushed up stairs to rescue the children sleeping there. Clyde, aged 12, Inc., aged four, William, Jr., aged three, and an infant.*SHOT OFF GUN.*Then Italian Tossed It Away When Officer Approached.*Officer James Francis arrested a strange Italian last night for shooting firearms in the borough. When the Indian saw the officer come in view he threw down the gun and beat it. Francis proved the better runner and landed his man.*The offender was not given a hearing this morning but Burgess Evans left word that $10 would be required as a forfeit if any of his friends materialized.*CAR OF BLACK BASS FOR INDIAN CREEK*Mountain Stream Will Be Stocked on Thursday—Fish Coming From Decatur, Ill.*Robert Galloway received word this morning that Captain W. H. Martin would arrive here tomorrow evening from Decatur, Illinois, with a car load of black bass with which to stock Indian Creek. The car will lay over here Wednesday night and on Thursday morning Captain Martin accompanied by William McCorkle, George McFetts and Anthony Broome will take the fish up the creek and deposit them in the proper holes.*The fish were secured through the influence of Philander C. Knox of President Taft's cabinet. Mr. Knox was acquainted with the facts regarding the depletion of the fish in the Indian Creek section owing to the drought and responded by having the Government hatcheries send a car load here. It is stated that there are 150,000 fish in the car.*MUST SERVE SENTENCE.*The Supreme Court Decides Against W. L. Lenhart.*An order was handed down in the Supreme Court at Pittsburgh yesterday in which the court refused to permit William L. Lenhart to appear from the finding of the Washington county court where he was convicted on a charge of conspiracy to defraud in connection with the Peoples National Bank of California, Pa. He was sentenced in the lower court to two years' imprisonment at the Western Penitentiary.*ENGINEERS PENSIONED.*David Randolph, F. A. Leibiger and John Kerns, Three Veterans.*David Randolph, F. A. Leibiger and John Kerns, three well known Baltimore & Ohio railroad men, are scheduled for the pension list. All of them are pretty husky, able old fellows, but they have reached the age limit of 65 years and the Pension Board of the company has passed upon their cases. They will probably receive their official notice within a few days.*The pensions will date from January 1, 1909.*B. & O. SCHEDULE.*Will Go Into Effect on Third Sunday in November.*Work is now going on in making up the new winter schedule for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. It is to go into effect the third Sunday in November, but it is stated that there will be no changes made in it.*Instead of the number of trains being decreased this year, it is probable that faster time will be scheduled and a new fast train may be added west of Pittsburgh.*CARRIED A GUN.*Franklin Township Man Sent to Jail by Squire Graham.*Frank Pollek of Franklin township was committed to jail this morning on a charge of carrying concealed weapons made by Constable George Frank of Franklin township.*Pollek was given a hearing last evening by Squire George Graham of Dunbar township. Pollek is Polish and is about 20 years old.The opinion was rendered by Associate Justice Van Osdel and was concurred in by Justice Rohr. Chief Justice Shepard dissented. Van Osdel said:"Individual interests dwindle into insignificance when compared with the higher principles involved in this case."*The fundamental issue is whether the constitutional agencies of the Govern-*BEGIN PLANS FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL.*SCHOOL BOARD APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE SITUATION.*PRESENT QUARTERS CRAMPED*In All Probability an Addition Will Be Made to the Old Building—Interest Shown in Athletics—J. He is engaged in clearing up the claims against various proprietors for paving assessments, and preparing to file liens against the properties whose owners have not settled.*At 11 o'clock this morning Mr. Goldsmith stated that it is hardly likely that more than 20 liens will be entered. There were 79 claims in the ordinance passed by Council a month ago and most of the owners have settled.*The liens entered today will total between $1,500 and $2,000. The claims amounted originally to between $5,000 and $6,000, most of which was secured without recourse to entering liens.*All of the property owners along Race street, Market alley, Church Place, West Fayette street and East Fayette street settled their obligations.*Of the 20 liens to be filed, one is on North alley, one on Green street, three on Pittsburg street, three on Eighth street, two on Arch street, one on Cedar avenue, one on Crawford avenue, one on Porter avenue, one on the West Side and one at the corner of Pittsburg street and Cedar avenue.*Some of the claims are as much as 12 years old. Since the matter was referred to the Borough Solicitors, Attorney Goldsmith has worked diligently and has had practically entire charge of the matter from the beginning.*To go to Uniontown this afternoon and enter the liens.*A SOCIALIST TO TALK.*In Stader's Hall Tonight on Social and Political Life.*The Socialists of Connellsville will have an opportunity to hear a good Socialist talk in Stader's hall tonight when J. W. Stayton will deliver a speech.He is scheduled to talk upon modern social and political life, and it is reported that there is plenty of red fire in the talk. Mr. Stayton has made several talks here.(Continued on Second Page.)*THREE MINUTE COURT SESSION.*NO LAWYERS PRESENT, BUT JUDGE VAN SWEARINGEN GRANTS DIVORCE AND TRANSACTS SOME OTHER BUSINESS.*UNIONTOWN, Nov. 2.—A three minute session of court was held this morning. Va., in 1895 and the application for divorce was made in 1905.*The couple lived at various points in the Monongahela valley. Judge Van Swearingen in granting the divorce made it a matter of record that it was*not to establish a precedent. The disappearance of Frank Kruse who was associated in the banking business with Mike Bayava at New Salem was the occasion for suit being entered today by Peter Renard against the two partners to recover $400. He states that he had an deposit in the bank $500 and had withdrawn $100 and that the balance of the sum is still due him.*A similar suit was entered against the same parties by Michael Kordic to recover $650. An athletic carnival will be held here Saturday afternoon when the High School boys will present one of the best programs ever arranged. Prior to the football game there will be an inter class field and track meet between the Freshmen and Sophomores. This most often the place of the annual class rush which has never been sanctioned by the faculty. There will be a mile relay, half mile run, 200 yard dash, 100 yard dash and 400 yard dash. Both classes are worked up over the approaching contest and each is confident of ultimate victory. One price of admission will be charged for the field meet and foot ball game.

A QUICK 5 DAY CLEARANCE SALE! OF ABOUT FIFTY PIANOS.

OUR HOLIDAY STOCK will begin to arrive in about 10 days.

We have bought more pianos this year than we have ever bought before. CONSEQUENTLY We Must Have Room.

In our stock today are about 50 Pianos. We want to sell them quickly, before our HOLIDAY STOCK begins to come in.

These are Odds and Ends. Some of them have been used a little. A few second-hand, while others are (BRAND NEW,) but only one of a style.

But the choicest of the whole of these, from a purely economical standpoint, are a few of the new Pianos, (Including One Fine CHICKERING GRAND,) that were a bit scratched or otherwise marred during the recent REMODELING of our store.

As for the PIANOS themselves, they are the very cream of our stock. Every one of them is an up-to-date style, which we will replace immediately as soon as these are sold, but the highly polished cases here and there show a little the worse of the wear, not enough to damage them at all, but enough to take off the newness, and to make us willing to take off several dollars from the price, if we can find some quick buyer.

NEED OF ANOTHER HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.

The necessity of providing additional room for the High School pupils, which has been pointed out in those columns, was recognized by the School Board at its meeting last night, and a committee was appointed to investigate and report.

There is no question concerning the needs of the school, but the question the committee will particularly deal with is how best to meet the conditions. The High School should be central. It is for the whole town. The present location answers this requirement excellently well, and it has the further advantage of possessing ample ground for additional buildings.

As we have already suggested, it will not be necessary to remodel the present building, which would be a difficult task at best and which could not be done during the school term without serious interference with the work of the schools. An additional and entirely separate building can be erected south of the present building and connected with it by covered ways from all the floors, in such manner as to make it practically part of the present building with the advantages of plenty of light on all sides. Inasmuch as the building is absolutely necessary, the sooner its erection is begun the better.

MORE EXPANSION FOR GREATER CONNELLSVILLE.

Councilman Shuman wants to annex the northern end of Connellsville. The Courier is a firm believer in the policy of expansion and it cordially endorses this proposition. It would also like to see South Connellsville annexed, though it would not insist upon taking in all the mountain land which the South Connellsville incorporationists seek to make a part of their proposed separate borough.

Whatever is done in the line of expansion, however, should be done at once. Our lines should be out in time to get full credit for our entire population. We have made very excellent progress thus far. Now is the time to push the work.

Let's make Greater Connellsville show up in the census as the greatest town in Fayette county, and thus confound our jealous rivals.

THE CHANGING HALLOWEEN CUSTOM.

The entire success of the Halloween celebration in Connellsville has been the subject of comment on all sides.

The Courier is pleased yet not surprised. The suggestion came from this paper several years ago and has been persistently pursued ever since. It finally filtered into the public mind and moved it to action. The result demonstrates the wisdom of it.

The Courier saw no reason why Halloween should not be made an evening of general enjoyment and universal jollity than a night of laborious and stupid malicious mischief.

We will hope to see next year's Halloween celebration bigger, more brilliant and in all respects better than ever.

THE GOOD LUCK OF MOUNT PLEASANT.

The idle glass industry which went to the wall in the wreck of the broken Mount Pleasant bank has been purchased by practical Jenkintown glass men and will be started up with a full complement of some two hundred workers.

"Tis an ill wind that blows no good to nody one, and out of the ruins of reckless finance comes a promising proposition for the town that has wrought much and suffered seriously in her enterprises.

The fact, however, should not discourage Mount Pleasant. It is part of the work of upholding the community. The plowmen come and blaze the pathway. They sometimes sow with failure and scald it with bitter tears. Too often their services are rewarded by the scourge; their failures with the prison cell; their enterprises with contempt; their families with want and misery. It is the way of politicians who aspire to be watchmen. They should hold fast to their certificates. One can lose his character by carelessness.

DEDICATION WILL BE CELEBRATED.

Methodists of Scottsdale Will Have Meeting on Thursday Evening.

ALL FRIENDS ARE INVITED

Prohibitionists Close Campaign With a Public Meeting in Scottsdale—West Penn Contracting for Big Electric Signs—Other Notes.

SCOTTDALE. Nov. 2.—At the morning and evening services at the First Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday, Dr. A. W. Strickler, in behalf of the official bears, extended to the congregation and the friends of the church a cordial invitation to be present at the church on Thursday evening, November 4, for a reception to the pastor, Rev. R. B. Mansell, D.D., and Mrs. Mansell, greeting them for another year, and getting better acquainted with each other and the church work. This is the anniversary week of the dedication of the new church in November, 1902, and the week will be so celebrated. There will be speeches, music and the Ladies' Aid Society will serve refreshments on Thursday evening.

Broke into a Car.

Edward Wehrman and O. D. Wehr had a car of potatoes on the East Scottdale siding of the B. & O., and the car was broken into Sunday night and several hundred pounds of potatoes taken. It is not known how many but enough to make considerable loss.

Home From Bedford.

George Ellenger, John Blahing and William Miller returned home last week from a visit and hunting trip in Bedford and Somerset counties. They say that they had a very fine trip and much to eat.

A Council Meeting.

The regular monthly session of the Town Council was held last night, but on account of the absence of election and the interest thereto was not one of the long drawn out sessions. The payment of bills was the best feature of the meeting.

The Campaign Closed.

The campaign was closed here by a public meeting for John D. Gill, the Prohibition candidate for Judge. The meeting was held at Pittsburg and Spring street corner, and J. W. Grantham introduced the speakers who were Rev. John Prugh of Johnstown and Mr. Gill, the candidate. The Republicans and Democrats held no public meetings, but there was a lot of scrapping around to pick up any late votes or new some of kindness.

Ridiculous Story.

Chief of Police Frank McCudden says that he was the only policeman out at the Uniontown-Scottsdale football game on Saturday, at which the Uniontown morning paper has "several" policemen saving the Uniontown bunch from being annihilated. He says there was but one sign of disturbance when a stick was thrown over his head and as much as him as anyone else. That the girls attacked any of the Uniontown boys he says very flatly is not true.

For Electric Signs.

The West Penn Electric Company is making a vigorous campaign in Scottsdale for the installation of electric signs and additional lamps at places of business and bus met with good success. Ernest J. Mori, illuminating engineer for the company has been here interesting the merchants and it is said that among those who will contract are the two largest stores in town which will have electric signs placed upon the tops of their buildings, so that they may be seen for a long distance. The signs and those along the streets will make the town look as if it was alive and up with the times.

The G. A. R. Button.

Col. J. Harvey Luker of Col. Ellsworth Post of the G. A. R. spoke last night of the wearing of the G. A. R. button on the lapel of the coat by those who have not kept up their dues and their membership in the G. A. R. Orders from Philadelphia call attention to this and the action of the Grand Army taken sometime ago made it illegal for those who have belonged to the G. A. R. and then dropped out and allowed their membership to lapse to wear the button. They are now considered as much impostors, according to the orders of the man who never belonged to the G. A. R. but wears one of the buttons. The head of the department directs that some of them be arrested who are wearing the button, either not being members or ones who have allowed their membership to lapse, and have them punished. The first offense is punishable by a large fine, the second by imprisonment.

The 125th Anniversary of The Mt. Moriah Baptist Church.

Special to The Courier.
SAINTFIELD, Nov. 2.—The 125th anniversary of the organization of the Mt. Moriah Baptist Church convened here Thursday. The first session was held at 2 P. M. Rev. J. W. Flays, presiding. Rev. Ross Ward made the principal address on the first 62½ years of the church's history. Hon. E. H. Repert made an interesting address, "A Biographical Sketch of the Pastors of the Church." The forenoon session Friday was taken by an old members' meeting. Old hymns were sung and testimonies led by Rev. P. G. Sturgis who is 91 years old, a member of the Mt. Moriah Church for more than 70 years. A social hour from 11 to 12 o'clock and greetings from those unable to be present were rend.

The Friday afternoon session convened at 2 P. M. and was perhaps the most interesting meeting to the general public on account of the subject "The Old Academy" and the recognized ability of the speaker, Rev. D. B. Purinton, D. D., of Morgantown, W. Va. The public schools of the borough adjourned at noon in order that the pupils might attend this session. The address was followed by a historical sketch of the Sunday school by D. P. Smith and an address by Rev. J. S. Bromley, "The Men of the North, The Builders of the West." The evening session was taken up by a rally of the present membership. There was a song service by a mixed choir from Fairchance, Woodbridge, Oak Hill and the home choir.

Rev. James E. Darby, D. D., of OH City, made no able address on the topic.

RABBIT DAY

Season Began Yesterday Morning and Many Hunters Are in Woods.

The rabbit season started yesterday and many bunnies were bagged before night. Mack Patterson arrived in town yesterday evening from the Dunbar township farm and complained bitterly about the sportsmen. The Pattersons have been taking care of a large flock of quail during hot winter and summer and yesterday morning the farm was covered with sportsmen and the little flock of quail fell into their hands.

Rabbits are plentiful, but the birds were more attractive and they fell in numbers. Farmers report that rabbits are more plentiful than ever.

INDIAN SUMMER HERE WITH ITS BALMY AIR

Overcoats Have Been Cast Aside and Furnaces Have Been Forgotten.

Indian Summer is here and mighty pleasant it is, too. Weather conditions for the past few days have been ideal. After the cold nights last week, the balmy atmosphere of Sunday and yesterday brought everybody out of doors, and most of them hiked to the country, it being possibly their last chance to enjoy the open without falling into the unpleasant conditions of winter.

Sunday was as mild as a day in June. Overcoats were cast aside for the oboe and furnace fires forgotten about. The same brand of weather continued yesterday with the haze in the air typical of the season.

Automobile owners were in their element Sunday. It was the best Sunday for travelling that has been enjoyed for weeks past and the cars sped in all directions. The automobile owners are more interested than most people because the time is soon coming when the cars will be stored in the garages during the winter.

MANY TYPHOID FEVER CASES NEAR JENNER

At the Sipe Hotel There Were Nine Cases, One of Them Resulting Fatal.

Special to The Courier.

SOMERSET, Nov. 2.—The typhoid fever epidemic which has been raging in the Jenner territory for some time has resulted in one death. Wilbert Miller of Perry, Pa., an employee of the Sipe hotel, died last week after an illness of three weeks. Eight boarders at the Sipe hotel have been ill with the disease, but all are now convalescent.

An investigation by Dr. Charles P. Large of Meyersdale, the health officer of Somerset county, was made and samples of water from several wells were taken for analysis, but the result has not been made public.

FINE BARN BURNED

In Somerset County Entailing a Loss of $8,500.

SOMERSET, Nov. 2.—(Special)—About 1 o'clock Sunday morning the large barn of Frank Way, just outside the borough limits, was discovered in flames. The fire lines do not include Mr. Way's property and nothing could be done to quell the flames, which destroyed the barn, burning it to the ground. The loss is estimated at $8,500 with $1,500 insurance.

There were seven horses and a number of cattle saved. Mr. Way sustained painful burns on his head and hands while rescuing the horses from the flames.

TWO SUDDEN DEATHS

LIFE LONG DEMOCRAT IS STRONG FOR JONES

Elias Hatfield Declares 10 Years on Benon is Long Enough For Any Man.

UNIONTOWN, Nov. 2.—Elias Hatfield, a life long Democrat, one whose fidelity to that party has never been questioned, has come out strong for Alfred E. Jones for Judge. Mr. Hatfield cast his first vote in 1852 for Franklin Pierce for President, and has voted for every Democratic candidate for that office since. He is in favor of one term for the county judges. In a letter on the subject, Mr. Hatfield says in part:

"I have always been a Democrat but I think 10 years is long enough for any man in the Judgeship. My vote will be for Jones and I know a good many other Democrats who will vote for Jones if they vote the way we talk."

"Is there a Democratic newspaper in Fayette county?" So, I do, I have taken The Genius since 1851 and it has got so now that I cannot get out from reading it, who the Democratic nominees are. I have been taking The Genius nearly 60 years and it seems lacking in Democracy now."

Mr. Hatfield was a county commissioner from 1857 to 1861.

COMPLEXION ILLS.

How to Avoid the Bad Effects of the Present Trying Season.

These are the days when a woman must give regular, thoughtful care to her complexion, if she would retain its elusive bloom of youth. As every woman knows, this can only be done by intelligent use of a high grade face cream, used in connection with massage of a helpful sort. Doubtless more complexions have been injured by hasty, unskillful massage, than in any other way. Lasting and satisfactory effects can best be secured by the use of Crown Cream and a Farlin Beauty Cup. Crown Cream alone is a helpful, cleansing and nourishing to the skin, that many women use it without massage.

But as the Farlin Beauty Cup makes perfect massage automatic, these two toilet essentials should always be used together. Crown Cream has a wonderful effect upon moist and lifeless complexions, and seems to clear from the face the marks of time in a manner almost miraculous. Regularly used, all skin blemishes and blemishes quickly disappear, and the complexion is given the tone it needs to withstand the ravage of wind and sun.

Ask your dealer if he has these goods, and accept no substitute for them. If he is not supplied, will be sent prepaid to your address from the Farlin Mfg. Co., Toledo, Ohio, upon receipt of price, which is 50¢ for the Crown Cream, and 50¢ for the Beauty Cup.

For sale by Collins Drug Co., and Graham & Co.

TAFT ON LAST LAP OF JOURNEY.

He Has Only Nine Days More in Southern States.

LONG STAY AT JACKSON, MISS.

President Has Practically Finished Study of Conditions Throughout the Land—"Never in the Country's History Were We As Homogeneous."

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 2.—With New Orleans behind him, President Taft is on the last leg on his long journey. He has nine days more in the southern states, but he already has seen enough of the south to enable him to say that his two months' study of conditions throughout the country is practically finished. The impressions that he has gathered from the trip were summarized by him in a speech here. Said he:

"I have gone from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, down the Pacific coast to the southwest corner of the country, through the territories and that great domain of Texas to St. Louis, down the Mississippi to New Orleans, and I have made, the Lord forgive me and the Lord help those who have heard me, 200 odd speeches; have survived the hearing of 200 more and I am able to say that we never in all our country's history were as homogeneous a people, as closely allied in all our hopes and ambitions, and in all our pride of country and patriotism as we are today."

Sixteen Hours at Jackson.

The president spent sixteen hours in this city, more time than he gave Chicago or San Francisco. Here in Jackson they say that Mr. Taft is the first president who ever discovered that the city is on the map. President McKinley's special train stopped here for a second or two, but no chief executive had ever honored the city with a visit until Taft came.

Smith was a veteran of the Civil war and was known to nearly every resident of the northeast section of the city as "dad."

GIRL BEATS BURGLAR

Into Insensibility and Sends Him to the Hospital.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Miss Margaret Lexius, twenty years of age, is the heroine of her friends for she captured a would-be burglar in her sister's home and turned him over to the police so badly beaten that his own friends could not recognize him.

The beth in the apartment of Mrs. John Voorhees, 1748 Ogden avenue, rang and Miss Lexius answered the call. As she opened the door she faced two revolvers held in the hands of Floyd Goodrich, who has a long criminal record.

"Back into the room," ordered the man, as he pushed her back. "Now I want your money and rings."

Miss Lexius gave him her purse and then started to take off a couple of rings from her fingers. Then she had a quick thought. One of the rings fell to the floor.

As the burglar stooped to pick it up she landed on him. Both went down. Mrs. Voorhees heard the racket and came running. After they had beaten the man into insensibility they called the police. Goodrich is now in the police hospital.

FATAL CRAP GAME.

Aged White Man Kicked to Death by Negro Player.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 2.—Resenting the accidental step of an aged man, who moved one of the dice used in a street crap game, Ham Swope, colored, knocked down and kicked to death Arthur Smith, a white mechanic.

Before the bystanders could lay hands on him Swope dashed down the street, across Lost Creek and disappeared in the timber north of the city.

Citizens aroused by the crime notified the authorities and in a short time 500 persons were in pursuit. Threats of lynching were frequent and steps were taken by the authorities to protect the slayer if arrested.

Smith was a veteran of the Civil war and was known to nearly every resident of the northeast section of the city as "dad."

ENDORSEMENT FOR PEARY

VIII Be Given Letter Part of Week. Lectures Will Follow.

Washington, Nov. 2.—A report declaring that Commander Robert E. Peary has substantiated his claim to having reached the north pole on April 9, this year, will be given to the public about the last of the week bearing the endorsement of the board of managers of the National Geographic society.

Soon thereafter Commander Peary probably will go on the lecture platform and if he accepts an invitation about to be extended to him he will make his first public appearance in Washington under the direction of the National Geographic society. The society has indicated that it would be pleased to have Commander Peary lecture on Nov. 12. The indications are that he will accept the invitation.

JAIL DELIVERY FRUSTRATED

Prisoners in County Jail Had Planned to Attack Guards.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—It is learned that a plot for a wholesale delivery of prisoners in the county jail last Friday night was frustrated by jailer William Davies. The prisoners had planned to attack the guards, secure the keys to the cells and liberate all the prisoners.

They carry the day. The wine drinkers carried the day by going to New Orleans and buying their supply in Louisiana. Now the teetotalers say they will carry the question of the Taft banquet to the polls. Mississippi is a dry state. The president himself does not drink wine or anything else stronger than coffee, so that the Jackson people were raising a rumpus on their own account.

MAY ABOLISH FOOTBALL.

Its Future in Uncle Sam's War Academies in Abeyance.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Officers of the war and navy departments are awaiting official reports from West Point and Annapolis before taking any action in regard to the future of football at these institutions. No report has been received at the war department upon the death of Cadet Byrne. The war and navy departments will probably allow the superintendents of the two academies to handle the question.

Of course the disbanding of the football team at West Point will also result in the abandonment of the remainder of their schedule and will necessitate the cancellation of the army and navy game, which was to be played on the Saturday after Thanksgiving. The navy team will probably complete its present schedule with the exception of the army and navy game.

BIG DEAL IS REPORTED

Aeronautic Society Denies Infringing on Flying Machine Patents.

New York, Nov. 2.—The answer of the Aeronautic society to the suit brought by Orville and Wilbur Wright for alleged infringement of their airplane patent is filed in the clerk's office of the United States circuit court.

The answer is a general denial that the Wrights were the true and original inventors of "any new and useful improvements in flying machines which were not known or used by others in this country before their invention." The society denies that it has infringed or intended to infringe any right of the complainants.

Abandoned Mine Workings Sinking.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 2.—Subsidence of the surface over old mine workings at Edwardsville, near here, has damaged the Mount Hinchuk public school so badly that it was abandoned and the pupils were transferred to another school. White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 2.—It has been definitely learned that the divorce action brought by Mrs. Jacob Astor against Colonel Astor is a Dutchess and not a Westchester county proceeding and that the report of Referee Charles H. Pittsburg, Nov. 2.—Ezra Johnson, after being discharged by one magistrate, although charged with threatening John McMenamy with a nitroglycerin bomb, was re-arrested and placed in jail. McMenamy says that when he went to collect Johnson's rent Johnson threatened him with a nitroglycerin bomb.

LAND VALUES SOAR HIGH

Finding of Gold in Texas Causes Great Excitement.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 2.—The excitement over the recent discovery of gold near the town of Hope, in Lavaca county, ninety miles southeast of Austin, is causing an enormous increase in land values in that section. T. S. Oliver, the owner of the tract of land upon which the strike was made, has been offered $15,000 for ten acres by a syndicate of northern men.

The gold is found in a formation which is said to be the counterpart of that of the famous Rand district in Africa. A number of samples which have been assayed run from $325 to $1,200 a ton. It is stated by men who have just visited the place, the country is level and is within miles of the Gulf of Mexico. The gold was struck while boring a well.

"Here she is," said the diver, his eyes alight with joy.
The door opened, to admit Margaret Lawrence, her neat nurse's uniform partly bidden under a dark coat.
She was not so tall as Jenny. The two women formed, indeed, a striking contrast. Margaret was dark and bony looking, carried herself well and had the tranquil assurance of movement and speech of her profession. Jenny, her golden hair piled in disorderly tufts on top of her head, her cheap black dress unstarched at the throat, had the disconcerted, half-

"How beautiful you look this morning!"

ferent ways of the woman whom poverty has already soured.

Margaret gave Philip a dazzling smile, nodded cheerfully to Jenny and said,

"Good morning."

Philip took her hand, pressed it and said,

"How beautiful you look this morning."

"You foolish boy—have you been thinking of me?"

Philip, who had bent forward as if to kiss Margaret, shrank back, turned around to Jenny and said,

"I've got your pardon—I forgot."

Margaret, I want you to know my old friend, Jenny Moran—Miss Lawrence.

Jenny nodded.

"Happy to make your acquaintance," she said, but her tone was hostile.

She could not bear to see these two together.

"Sorry that I cannot stay," she added, "but I must be at the factory at 8."

Margaret looked at her a little as though at the first time in which the girl spoke, but she answered readily,

"I will write down the instructions for the treatment of the child."

"All right," said Jenny, almost impatiently. "Goodby."

She stared for a moment into her mother's pale eyes, then left the room slaming the door behind her.

"She's a little crude sometimes," explained Philip apologetically, "but she has a good heart."

That evening Jenny was forgotten.

Philip drew Margaret, unresisting into his arms, against his might chest. She looked up into his eyes and offered him her tenderly smiling mouth. He kissed her softly, reverently, thoughtfully.

The woman was the first to return to the present and the work at hand. She softly, regretfully, freed herself from his clasp.

"This is most unprofessional. I am here to look after a sick child."

She glanced about the room.

"Where is the patient?" she asked.

"In there. Do not go in yet, Margaret."

She hesitated, half unwillingly.

She sighed a little to herself at the undutiful tenant house room and consoled herself with saying:

"This is one of John J. Haggleton's tenements, is it not?"

"Yes. He is Moran's landlord. You should hear him talk about him—the robust!"

"And this is 'long block,' where there is so much consumption?"

"It is."

"And that little child is coughing already. No wonder—in such an atmosphere!"

She seated herself in Jenny's chair by the table. Philip taking the one he had occupied when the poor girl had made her confession to him.

"Just think!" he began. "We meet in a boarding house where I belong and you do not. Naturally I fall in love with you because you are a spinster, beautiful girl—yes, you are—and all of a sudden—bang!—you have pronounced me to marry me."

She glanced at him curiously.

"You big, strong man, why do you say that I do not belong in a boarding house?"

"Because you are a lady. You never lived in a boarding house before, did you?"

"No."

"You were never brought up in the expectation of having to earn your own living?"

"No. My father was ruined in business, and I had to choose between marriage and earning my own living."

"I know it," said Philip with quiet conviction. "I—I never loved a woman before, and this—your love means everything to me. I am only a workingman but I am going to rise. It is in me. I know it, and if you will trust me?"

"I do trust you I think, don't."

"I feel that I can do anything if I have you to work for—anything! I have had a wonderful feeling of power lately since—I have come to love you—Margaret. I will give the big places for you—the money places of this world."

"I do not want money, Philip. That is why I took up nursing, because my family would have insisted on my marrying a stupid idiot who happened to be rich. Listen, dear, I tell you because you are working for something better than money—because you have high ideals and because you give time and thought to helping the poor."

His face glowed.

"We will help the poor in a big way, you and I, before we get through," he promised her.

"That's what makes me love you, dear," she repeated.

A whistle sounded in the street. Philip stood silent.

"That's Gentle's signal," he announced. "You know, dear, my friend at the boarding house?"

"He has a fine face. I like him."

"He has been like a father to me. I owe everything to him. My real father."

He broke off abruptly, his face clouding over.

Gentle entered, took off his cap and bowed to Margaret. He was a man some fifty-five years old of middle height, stockily built, and tanned by exposure. He was simply dressed in a blue flannel jacket, dark trousers and heavy boots.

He was a diver like Philip who had learned under his guidance the trade of which he was now an acknowledged master.

The girl gave him her hand.

"I have just seen the captain," said the old diver, turning again to Philip. "He says you can have the day off. I told the captain this was a special day for you."

Gentle looked at Margaret with an apologetic smile.

"Does Mr. Gentle know?" she whispered to Philip.

"Oh yes, I know Miss Lawrence. Philip has no secrets from me—and such a secret. My children! You know," he added in explanation to the girl, "he is like a son to me."

"Then I will be like a daughter," she rejoined promptly and sweetly.

"My daughter Margaret," Gentle explained. Then he added reverently, "It was the name of Philip's mother. She would be very happy if the elder son has made."

"Gentle," Philip broke in, "I wish you would tell Margaret about the night when you first saw my mother."

They sat down.

"It was twenty-two years ago," he said gently, "when I first met Mrs. Blaney. I have been with her for more than twenty-five years—Mrs. Blaney and I were playing checkers in the basement sitting room when all of a sudden we heard the bell. Sakes alive! who's that?" said Mrs. Blaney. And when I opened the door there stood a woman in the storm, holding a little boy by his hand, and she was white as death. God have mercy, said I, 'What are you doing out in a night like this? We are in great trouble with the police and revolutionaries, the men who could afford to fight the government of the most powerful country in the world on terms of equality.'

Gentle saw before him a burly man of sixty gray faced with a blistering mustache, wavy at the ends, a man dressed with stoiclike taste.

But it was the face that commanded his attention. The steady eyes had held him from the first. He now noted the stern brow, with the fold between the eyebrows, the thin lips, the lines at the corners of the grim mouth, the straight, short nose, which suggested knishness.

But the old diver accustomed to picking strong healthy men for the dangerous work of which he had charge, saw something else which the cartoonists failed to suggest in their drawings. He saw as plainly as John J. Coughlin that this man was no impostor. Thus far he had told a straight story. His desire to know the truth which he had sought for twenty years had his accurate judgment of the man beyond him counseled him that it was safe to proceed with less caution now.

"Why did he steal my son and hide him from me?"

"To do him a favor," he said, "and I think he did it in a night like this. We are in great trouble with the police and revolutionaries, the men who could afford to fight the government of the most powerful country in the world on terms of equality."

"John J."

VOTERS CASTING BALLOTS TODAY.

Elections Are Being Held In Several States.

INTEREST CENTERS IN GOTHAM

Philadelphia, Cleveland and San Francisco Also Furnishing Much Excitement—Pennsylvania Electing State
Officers.

WHAT VARIOUS STATES ARE VOTING FOR TODAY.

Alabama—Primaries for governor and constitutional amendment.
Connecticut—Municipal officers.
Illinois—Representative.
Indiana—Municipal officers.
Kentucky—Municipal officers.
Maryland—Legislature; constitutional amendment.
Massachusetts—Governor, state and municipal officers; legislature.
Nebraska—Judges of supreme court, county officers.
New Jersey—Municipal officers.
New York—Assemblymen, supreme court justices and municipal officers.
New Hampshire—Municipal
officers.
Ohio—Municipal officers.
Pennsylvania—State and county officers.
Rhode Island—Governor, state
and municipal officers.
Virginia—Entire state ticket and legislature.
Washington—Representative
and municipal officers.

Elections are being held today in many states throughout the country.
Three states will elect governors and full state tickets, namely, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Virginia. New Jersey will elect both branches of the legislature.

In Pennsylvania voters are being cast for a state treasurer, auditor general and judge of the supreme court. The fight for the office of district attorney in Philadelphia is of the greatest interest and the result of today's balloting is eagerly awaited. Reform has been the dominant issue put forward by P. Clarence Gibbons, William Penn candidate, and endorsed by the Democrats, in his fight against L. P. Rotan, regular Republican.

Elections Throughout Ohio.

Every municipality in the state of Ohio is holding an election today. The day's voting in Cleveland will determine whether Mayor Johnson and his three cent car fare platform will be endorsed for the fifth time. Herman Baehr, his opponent, has made a strenuous campaign, assisted by national Republican leaders of prominence.
Toledo is electing a mayor and Brand Whitlock hopes to be returned again. The issues throughout Ohio are local, the temperance question being a factor in several cities.

New York city is furnishing the greatest interest and excitement. The campaign has been very bitter and there are three candidates being voted for—Justice William J. Gaynor, the Democratic and the Tammany nominee; Otto T. Bannard, the Republican standard bearer, and Wiliam R. Hearst, leading the Civic alliance.

Money Seeks Re-election.

With the continuance of the bribery and graft prosecutions, begun four years ago, as the underlying basis, the voters of San Francisco went to the polls today for the first municipal primaries held since the new district primary law was enacted. Interest in the election hinged largely upon the district attorneyship. There are two nominees for district attorney.
Francis J. Heney, chosen by the Democrats in direct primary, and Charles Flickert, Republican and Union Labor nominee.

The paramount issue in Maryland is the so-called disfranchising amendment to the state constitution, admittedly designed to eliminate the negro as a political factor in that state.

The temperance question is prominent in the municipal campaign held in Indiana and is a leading issue at Indianapolis.

PENNSY ISSUES NEW STOCK

25 Per Cent of Its Present Capitalization to Be Added.

Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, at a meeting here, voted to issue additional stock to the amount of 25 per cent of the present capitalization. The stock will be issued at par to stockholders of record of Nov. 15. The new issue will amount to $7,397,102.

Following the action of the directors President McCrea said it was expected that the new issue would be sufficient to meet the $80,000,000 of notes and $20,000,000 of general mortgage bonds maturing in 1910. President McCrea added that all the improvements to the property, including the completion of the New York tunnel extension and any new equipment the company might require during 1910 would be paid for out of the surplus income and funds now in the treasury of the company.

THE REAL TEST Of Hericide Is In Giving It a Thor- ough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair signs may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate dandruff and stop falling hair?

No they do not, but Hericide does because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germs that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Hericide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send

Gives $25 Toward Panama Canal.
Washington, Nov. 2.—A "donation of $25 to aid the government in the construction of the Panama canal," was received at the treasury. It came from the People's National Progressive club of Birmingham, Ala. The same organization contributed a like amount for the same purpose on April last. The money has been deposited in the treasury, as directed.

BRIDE KIDNAPED.

Mother-in-law is Arrested and Held Under Heavy Bail.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 2.—Accused of kidnapping the fourteen-year-old daughter of C. D. Barron, a well-to-do business man of Atlanta, as a bride for her eighteen-year-old son, Mrs. F. C.
Lambert was arrested and held in heavy bond.

Mrs. Lambert's arrest is the sequel to a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Lucy Lambert, who alleged that she was kidnapped by Mrs. Lambert and forced to marry the latter's son.

Young Lambert and his mother lived near the Barrons and the former became infatuated with Little Miss Barron. When Barron learned of this he ordered young Lambert to keep away from his daughter. Thereupon, it is alleged, Mrs. Lambert undertook to bring about a marriage between her son and the Barron girl. It is alleged Mrs. Lambert won the girl's confidence and extolled the virtues of her son, telling what a fine husband he would make; that he would never tell her a story and she would never regret marrying him.

Finally, it is alleged, Mrs. Lambert enticed the girl to a place where her son was in waiting and had them married by a magistrate, who was a friend of Mrs. Lambert's. The Bar-rons allege that Mrs. Lambert wanted to get a rich bride for her son.

STRAW HAT IS OUT.

But Squire Miller Is Due to Leave It
at Home Today.

Squire Frank Miller is still wearing his straw hat. Today, election day is the last day of grace for him to proudly boast that he does not put it away in the closet until election day. This year he purchased one at the tall end of the season and it is still as bright and pretty looking as the day he took it out of the store.
But today when the votes are counted it is doomed and will be laid aside until the summer's sun of next year comes again. It has been a custom for years with him and annually he has to explain why he wears the straw hat until election.

NEW SCHEDULE
On the Pennsylvania Is Not Expected To Be Changed.

No changes are expected in the new schedule of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company which will go into effect on November 7. There are to be several changes in the fast trains on the main line, but it is not thought by agents on the Southwest branch that there will be any radical changes in the time of running trains.
